

KETTLE OF FISH BOOK CLUB 'IT'S A BOOK CLUB!'

KBC will next gather on February 14th, 2017 in the back room of The Kettle from 7:30-8:45pm. We do begin and end on time but members have been known to continue in excited discussion well into the night (hey, there's a bar nearby!). The next KBC selection is 'Devil in the White City' by Erik Larson.

So far KBC has read 'A Drinking Life' by Pete Hamill, 'M Train' by Patti Smith, 'All the Light We Cannot See' by Anthony Doerr, 'Love, Dishonor, Die, Cherish, Perish' by David Rakoff; 'Dancing After Hours' by Andre Dubus; 'Lily and the Octopus' by David Rakoff 'Driving Mister Albert' by Michael Paternity and 'We Are Not Ourselves' by Matthew Thomas. Selections are picked by the KBC membership so come on time to draw your chance to choose.

Come, imbibe, discuss, debate and expand your intellectual muscle. No need to sign up, just show up.

Special Note: KBC member Edie provided an interesting resource called Book-Mooch. This service allows its users to exchange books using a points system, helping readers add books to their inventories, Go to www.bookmooch.com for more details.

Any questions, please email us at www.kofbookclub@gmail.com.

Here's to reading!
